Product Description

The large moveable alphabet box exercise in Montessori language development consists of in wooden it has 28 compartments where consonants are in red/pink and vowels in blue. Complete set of alphabets is made in wood and finely finished for smoother and better surface sensation when a child touches and feels it. Each letter has its own compartment, one for each letter of the alphabet and two extra compartments can be used for the dots of the 'i's" and "j's. The letters are not arranged in the alphabetical order. The first hand information gives a better perception of sound letter, the relationship and also the identification of letters. When the child has learned the phonetic sounds of the alphabet and knows the letters by sight and has listened for the sound in words when learning them, the child can build words with the large movable alphabet. Using this method, the child learns word building. This also prepares the child for reading and use of a vowel for word building.

Purpose

- To help the child with the analysis and exploration of the language known to the child.
- To prepare the child for writing and reading effortlessly.
- To help the child analyze phonetic words as a preparation for reading, writing and spelling.
- To develop the child's vocabulary.
- To enhance the child's ability to think and to being creative.

Exercise

- Demonstrate the exercise by bringing the complete set and placing it on the mat.

- Invite the children to gather around you while you show them how to do the activity.
- Inform the children about the name of the activity, and what are the things the children will be learning.
- Now, introduce the children to making of words, so have the child to sound out a word with you.
- Start looking for alphabets in the set and make the word and lay them out on the mat clearly.
- Now, the child is understanding that you are demonstrating how to make a word.
- Now, ask the child to lay out the letters and to form the word that is sounding out.
- Ask the child to make more words if the child is doing the activity successfully.
- If not, and the child is tired, then conclude the work.
- Show the child the way letters are collected by starting with the last letter.
- Similarly, look for the same letter in other words.
- Replace in appropriate compartment.
- As all the letters have been returned, close the box and place it in the shelf.
- Similarly, do other exercises such as building phrases, continued by building sentences and lastly building stories.
- Monitor the child's activity and assist the child when there is a necessity.
